Biographical Note:

Jonathan Turley was born 2 May 1827 in Lawrence County, Indiana to Benjamin and Parmelia Turley. He grew up on his father's farm and attended subscription schools. Jonathan chose to be a farmer, and at one time owned as much as 430 acres of land. He married Julia Hall in 1849. They had six children, four of which grew to adulthood and were: Mary F., Sarah J. Turley, Robert B., and Eliza A. For a time, Jonathan Turley was a Justice of the Peace in the Mitchell, Indiana area. In 1879 Turley and Solomon Scott went into the brandy and whisky distillation business at the Daisy Spring Mill (now Spring Mill State Park). Turley also had a lime burning company. Later, Turley did suffer some financial hardships. He passed away in 1896.

Scope and Content Note:

This is a collection of personal and business correspondence, business papers, and legal records of Jonathan Turley and his family and covers 1828-1934, with the bulk of the coverage being 1865-1895 and focus on his farm, mill, distillery, and lime burning operations. Included in the personal correspondence are Civil War letters from Jonathan's brother Benjamin and as well as other friends. The later personal correspondence (1890s-1934) is all to Lida and Jennie Turley. Also, since Jonathan Turley was a member of the Big Spring Grange, included here are the Big Spring Grange roll, minute, and treasurer's books for 1874-1876.

The items are in chronological order.
